

Heather Forest, Storyteller/Author

TALES OF WOMENFOLK A Storytelling Concert by Heather Forest

This collection of global folktales and contemporary biographies is told in an interweave of original music, song, poetry and the sung and spoken word.

The tales feature “sheroes” who are courageous and resourceful and embody many facets of strength, from wit and intelligence to physical prowess to undaunted optimism. From comedy to drama, this wide pallet of old and new tales is an entertaining and poignant celebration of powerful femininity.

About the Artist

Heather Forest is a modern day bard. An award winning storyteller, recording artist and author she has toured her performance repertoire of World Folktales to theatres, schools, conferences and storytelling festivals throughout the United States and abroad. Her many performance credits include The Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D.C., The National Storytelling Festival, TN, Tales of Graz Festival, Austria, the Sidmouth International Folk Festival, England, and the Glistening Waters Storytelling Festival, New Zealand.

Heather Forest has published seven children's picture books, three folktale anthologies, seven audio recordings of storytelling and a popular educational web site Story Arts Online <http://www.storyarts.org>. Her recordings have won an American Library Association Notable Record Award, two Parent's Choice Gold Awards, and three Storytelling World Honor Awards. Ms. Forest holds a Master's Degree in Storytelling and a Ph.D. in Leadership and Change. She is a recipient of the Circle of Excellence Award presented by the National Storytelling Network,

For further information contact:

STORY ARTS
PO Box 354
Huntington, NY 11743
631-271-2511